FUNDAMENTAL MINDSETS

Basic beliefs and mindsets form the foundation of the Lean Transformation Framework. Up until now, we have practiced the other layers of the Framework, with the basic belief that we can “act our way into a new way of thinking”.

We’ve all seen how some lean efforts thrive and others fail to gain traction. We now believe that some fundamentally held beliefs about people, learning and organizational change can radically impact the outcome of these efforts.

Participants can expect to challenge their own and each others’ experience and thinking, and take away some “first steps” to start shifting mindsets in their workplace, teams and beyond.
